SRM University-AP Celebrates Independence Day with Inspiring Vision for a Self-Reliant India

SRM University-AP marked India's 78th Independence Day with a celebration that truly captured the spirit of freedom and national pride. The event was a vibrant display of cultural unity, featuring soulful performances by students in classical and western dance, songs, instrumental music, and yoga, leaving the audience spellbound.

The highlight of the day was the inspiring address by Vice Chancellor Prof. Manoj Arora, who eloquently delved into the essence of independence. Prof. Arora reflected on India's remarkable journey since gaining freedom from British rule in 1947, celebrating the nation's progress as the 5th largest economy and a global leader in various sectors.

He emphasized the importance of self-reliance, urging the audience to embrace the Atmanirbhar Bharat initiative and contribute to the nation's growth. "Our time has come," he declared, expressing confidence that India will be a developed nation by 2047, the centenary of independence.

Prof. Arora also highlighted the university's commitment to holistic education, emphasizing the integration of 21st-century skills, innovation, and entrepreneurship in the curriculum. He celebrated SRM University-AP's achievements, including its 100% placement record, and called for reimagining industry-academia collaborations to foster research and innovation.

The event concluded with a heartfelt salute to the unsung heroes—the support staff—who contribute tirelessly to the university's success. As SRM University-AP enters its 8th year, the Vice Chancellor urged everyone to dedicate themselves to the service of the university, the nation, and the world, embodying the true spirit of independence.
